CHINA'S ANSWER.

England Requested to Occupy the Oriental Standpoint.

OTHER FOREIGN INTELLIGENCE.

Cleveland's Masterly Inactivity in Cuban Affairs Will Continue—Arms of Suspected Filibusterers Will not be Confiscated.

New York, Oct 2.—A special cable dispatch to The Herald from London says: With regard to the Chinese official opinion on the matter of the English ultimatum the following is stated on the highest authority to be the Chinese version of the matter:

"China yields to 'force majeure,' acting under very prudent advice, but she looks upon the case of the viceroy's punishment from the same point of view as England would if Chinese subjects had been murdered in the streets of London—where, as a matter of fact, they are apt to be insulted and made fun of by the ignorant—and China were to call upon England to disgrace Lord Salisbury.

"The Chinese have no police force in their towns, as such is not needed. Thus, the authorities were unfortunately unprepared for an outbreak of so disgraceful a character, which only could have taken place under exceptional circumstances caused by popular excitement due to China's recent great disasters."

It is added that more is likely to be heard in the near future respecting the political aspect of the missionary activity in China.

CONFISCATION ILLEGAL.

The United States Cannot Follow Spanish Methods.

Washington, Oct. 1.—The attention of Attorney General Harmon was called this morning to a London Times dispatch from Madrid quoting Minister Dupuy de Lome to the effect that the United States had decided to confiscate arms and ammunation found upon vessels detained by the United States authorities which are supposed to be engaged or about to engage in filibustering expeditions to Cuba.

Attorney General Harmon stated that there had been no change at all in the position of the administration towards the Cuban insurgents. The neutrality laws, he said, were being enforced with vigor and impartiality, and it is the intention to continue to do so. Arms and munitions of war alleged to be for the use of the insurgents had been captured by United States officials and the matter brought to the attention of the judicial attorneys by United States officers. The decisions of the courts in these matters were as binding upon the government as on those under arrest, and when an acquittal followed the government of course was powerless further to act. Acquittal of alleged filibusters in criminal proceedings carried with it the surrender of property seized with them. In some cases this property had not been called for and still remained in the custody of the United States.

LATER ON.

Spain will be Easier on Cuba when the War is Over.

Havana, via Key West, Fla., Oct. 1.—The public announcement which was made here that the Canovas cabinet will pursue a moderate and humane policy in Cuba, gives the greatest satisfaction. The recognized enemy of a moderate policy in the cabinet has been Senor Romero Robledo as Minister of Justice and legal advisor to the government, who has proven a violent obstructionist to the moderate policy that now has the cordial approval of a majority of the government, including the premier, Canovas Del Castillo, the Duke of Tetuan, Minister of Foreign Affairs; Senor Castellanos, Minister for the Colonies, and others. They, one and all, are in favor of the liberal measures for Cuba voted by the Cortes in March last. As soon as the war is closed, the new laws will be put in force.

Capt. Gen. Martinez Campos is in active touch and sympathy with the Madrid cabinet. He insists on a liberal and humane policy. The policy of the Canovas cabinet naturally is in favor of active operations and the early crushing of the rebellion, which it regards as really the most humane course. Spain must be mindful of her unacclimated troops in Cuba. No cruel measures will be tolerated by Gen. Campos.

The strict neutrality observed by the American government has been cited by Premier Canovas Del Castillo as the best evidence of the friendliness of the United States, likewise its activity in suppressing revolutionary expeditions.

WILL BUY GUNS.

Practical Results of the Chicago Mass Meetings.

Chicago, Oct. 1.—That last night's meeting at Central Music hall is to result in more than moral sympathy for the Cuban revolutionists was evinced to-day by the statement of an authorized person that fire-arms have been pledged to aid in the cause and negotiations have been commenced for their purchase.

Ex-State Senator Edward T. Noonan, who was appointed one of the vice presidents at last night's meeting, made the assertion this afternoon that a committee is making arrangements to buy 100 Winchester rifles and a large quantity of ammunition, and that all would be ready for shipment to Cuba in a very short time.

Senator Noonan says the rifles are to be had at any time and that the friends of Cuba are only awaiting for an opportunity to ship them before the Cubans ask for their delivery.

Consales D. Quesada said to-night the Cubans were very anxious to have their army equipped with Winchesters, as it rendered the problem of ammunition of an easy solution

Cuba's Friends in New York.

New York, Oct. 1.—About 200 Cubans and sympathizers with the Cuban cause met this evening at the rooms of the James G. Blaine club. The chairman and principal speaker was S. C. Henriquez. He said that the deaths of insurgents, according to Captain General Campos were ridiculously exaggerated. The speaker claimed that the Cuban cause was getting on famously and that it was hoped that the United States government would soon recognize them as belligerents.

J. W. Kemple, a Republican politician of West Virginia, made a speech in which he hurrahed for the Cubans and casually remarked that the United States "could lick any government on the face of the earth."

PASTEUR'S FUNERAL.

Distinguished Honors Paid to the Great French Scientist.

Paris, Oct. 1.—The body of Prof. Louis Pasteur was placed in a coffin at his late residence at Garches at 2 o'clock this afternoon. The funeral party proceeded to Paris by way of St. Cloud.

An immense crowd gathered along the Rue Dutot and silently awaited the arrival of the cortege, and as the horses and carriages passed along all heads were bared.

President Faure signed a decree ordaining that M. Pasteur's obsequies should be of a national character. For the purpose of lessening the pomp and ostentation of the ceremonies attendant on the interment of M. Pasteur, his family decided that the body should remain temporarily in the vault at Notre Dame.

NEBRASKA REPUBLICANS.

Harmony in Store for To-day's State Convention.

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 1.—The outlook to-night is for nothing but harmony at the Republican State convention which convenes to-morrow, the discordant elements in the party being for the present, at least, apparently absent. Indications to-night are that Judge Norvin, the present Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, will be renominated on the first formal ballot, probably by acclamation. The names of one or two other candidates are mentioned but their following is small. Two regents of the University of Nebraska are to be nominated, and there are but three prominent candidates C. H. Morrill of Lincoln, J. B. Weston and Hugh I. Dobbs of Beatrice. Morrill is almost sure of a place on the ticket, and the chances favor Weston for second place. The only prospect of any sort of a row is over the platform, when the followers of free silver may attempt to insert a plank, but such an attempt is remote and its success even less probable. The convention will be composed of 1057 delegates, and the representation promises to be full.

No Divorce in South Carolina.

Columbia, S. C., Oct. 1.—The constitutional convention has decided that there shall never be a divorce granted in South Carolina for any cause. Senator Tillman did his best to have the divorces of other States recognized in this State, but his appeals were heard with a deaf ear and he was voted down.

Moltke's Mission.

London, Oct. 1.—The Daily News will to-morrow print a dispatch from its Berlin correspondent saying that the mission to St. Petersburg of Count Von Moltke, aide-de-camp to Emperor William, who conveyed to the Czar an autograph letter from the German Emperor, seems to be a sequel to the negotiations opened by Chancellor Von Hohenlohe during his recent visit to the Russian capital. It is a complete surprise to everybody. The correspondent says it is undoubtedly of great political importance.

Foot Ball Season Opened.

Philadelphia, Oct. 1.—The opening game of the football season in this city was played this afternoon on Franklin field, the athletic grounds of the University of Pennsylvania, between the University of Pennsylvania eleven and the Swarthmore college team. Pennsylvania won easily by a score of 40 to 0. The game played by Pennsylvania was very creditable for so early in the year, and the score would have been larger but for the fact that only 20-minute halves were played.

General Mahone's Illness.

Washington, Oct. 2. Gen. Mahone rested easily during last evening and early this morning was better than at any time since his collapse. He is, however, in a precarious condition.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES.

Judge Robert Crozier of Leavenworth, Kan., died at 1 o'clock this morning of paralysis.

Harry Wright, the veteran baseball manager who is sick at Atlantic City, N J., is in a critical state.

The Produce Cold Storage Exchange of Chicago, with liabilities of $500,000 and assets of $300,000, went into the hands of a receiver. Charles M. Stratton was appointed

To-day being the 25th anniversary of the plebiscite in the papal territories on the question of union with the Kingdom of Italy, which the government has decided to grant amnesty to all persons guilty of having evaded military service.

Robert Crozier, ex-editor, ex-United States Senator and ex-district judge, is very ill with typhoid fever at Leavenworth, Kan.

Ira P. Rankin, ex-collector of the port of San Francisco, and one of the best known citizens of California, died, aged 77 years.

The Munhall mansion, owned and occupied by John Munhall, coal dealer, near Homestead, Pa., was destroyed by fire of incendiary origin. The damage is about $20,000, fully insured.

Hon. Thomas Brown, the youngest member of the Legislature of Arizona, died in Fond Du Lac, Wis., aged 25 years.

The resignation of Colonel Rives from the position of superintendent of the Panama Railroad company, will be forwarded to New York by the steamer Allianca, which sails from Colon Oct. 4.

The French schooner Mary Blanch, from St. Pierre for Bay of Islands, with a general cargo, went ashore at La Polle, N. F. The vessel and cargo will be a total loss. The captain and one man were saved out of a crew of five.

General Craighill, chief of the engineer corps of the army, left Washington for a tour of inspection of the Mississippi and Missouri river improvements.

Several frame dwelling houses, three stores and a saloon near North Paulina street and Clybourne avenue, Chicago, were destroyed by fire at 2 o'clock this morning. A number of families were rendered homeless. The loss is about [illegible].

EPISCOPALIANS.

Interesting Questions to be Discussed at Minneapolis.

CONSTITUTION AND CANONS.

Important Changes Suggested Including One to Alter the Name of the Denomination—Many Delegates are in Attendance.

Minneapolis, Oct. 1.—With a solemn and impressive celebration of the Holy communion and a discourse by Bishop Coxe of the diocese of western New York, the triennial general conference of the Episcopal Church will be inaugurated tomorrow morning. A large majority of the bishops, clergy and laity composing the two houses were on the ground to-night and early to-day, but they preferred to spend their time in sight-seeing about the Twin Cities rather than in the discussion of the momentous questions that are to be submitted for their consideration and action during the next three weeks, and so the hotels and other headquarters were almost deserted.

The most distinguished member of the laity to put in an appearance was Senator George F. Edmunds of Vermont, who was prevented from receiving the greetings of numerous clergy by the fact that his wife was prostrated by the fatigue of the journey.

Dr. Morgan Dix of New York, who for the third time will be selected as chairman of the house of deputies; Bishop Dudley of Kentucky, Rev. Frederick W. Oates, the convert from Congregationalism, who recently founded the Home for consumptives at Denver; Bishop Neeley of Maine, Worthington of Nebraska, Coxe of New York, Seymour of Springfield, Starky of Newark, and Rev. William Hopkins, an Indian from the Santee reservation, were among the arrivals this evening. There is also a distinguished fraternal delegation from Canada, consisting of the Archbishop of Rupert's Land, primate of all Canada; the Lord Bishop of Algona, the bishop of Quebec, Very Rev. Dr. Carmichael, dean of Montreal; Very Rev. Dr. Gridale, dean of Rupertsland; Mathew Willson of Chatham, Ont., and J. H. Brook of Winnipeg. The Canadian bishops will be given a place of honor in the procession to-morrow.

Three secret sessions were held to-day, by the committee on revision of the Constitution and Canon of the Church, but no material changes were made in the report as previously adopted. But 12 of the 21 members were present. A proposition to designate future gatherings as "the general council" instead of the "general synod" as recommended in the report, was voted down, as were also several verbal changes in the principal canons. The committee is still in session this evening and while some of its members are confident that they will succeed in modifying some of the canons that have aroused adverse criticisms, others are confident that the report will stand.

Bishop Dudley, who, next to the chairman, Bishop Burgess of Quincy, has taken the most active part in engrafting the opinions of the bishops on the report, said to-day: "The result of our labors will go to the convention about as it has been printed."

As to its final disposition in the house of deputies, however, there is a great diversity of opinion. Nearly every clause of the bishops' constitution and canons has its opponents; and if it is decided to consider the report paragraph by paragraph, the debate will be interminable and might be prolonged months instead of three weeks to which the convention is limited. Many of the delegates are in favor of recommitting the report to a new committee and others of shelving it until the next convention and a strong effort will be made to dispose of it in one of those directions. The committee, however, will make a strong plea for its present consideration on the ground that the labors of its members are entitled to recognition and that so long as the necessary for a revision was affirmed by the last general conference, the question might as well be disposed of at once as in years to come.

The proposal to change the name of the denomination to "the Holy Catholic Church" finds little or no favor among the delegates and will be sat upon if presented.

The general conference will be asked to authorize the creation of a new diocese in California and in support of the petition the Pacific coast has sent a strong delegation. It is headed by Bishop W. F. Nicls, and includes Major W. B. Hooper of San Farncisco, commander of the California commandery of the Loyal Legion, Dean Bostwick of San Diego, Rev. Dr. Trew of Los Angeles, R. Spalding, Rev. T. C. Foute and Mr. A. N. Browne, all of San Francisco. The denomination has grown woderfully in numbers and influence on the Pacific coast since the last convention and the petition which emanates from the diocesean held in Los Angeles last May, will be strongly supported by facts and figures. Should it reeceive favorable action it is probable that Bishop Nichols will elect to retain the old territory and that the new diocese will be carved out of Southern California, possibly with the name of the diocese of Los Angeles. This will not interfere with the missionary bishopric which has jurisdiction in the northern part of the State. The Californians are sanguine that their petition will receive the consent of the bishop house without opposition.

Deep Water Convention.

Topeka, Kan., Oct. 1.—The Western States Deep Water conference, about which there has been so much talk lately, was opened at Representative hall at 4 o'clock this afternoon by Governor E. N. Morrill. The Governor was not feeling very well and did not make much of a speech. He stated, however, that he was heartily in sympathy with the movement, and expressed the belief that great good would result from the conference.

Rev. Dr. A. S. Embree of Topeka offered prayer, and General J. C. Caldwell of Topeka delivered an address of welcome.

Congressman C. G. Burton of Nevada, Mo., was chosen temporary chairman, and Tom Richardson of Galveston, Tex., temporary secretary. After the appointment of committees an adjournment was taken until 9 o'clock to-morrow morning.

There were about [illegible] delegates present, and it is expected that least 500 more will arrive to-night and to-morrow morning. The delegates manifest much interest in the conference and predict great results

THE ALBA R.

Big Strike in that Claim—A Stage is Overturned

Cripple Creek, Oct. 1.—The stage between Grassey and Cripple Creek was overturned this afternoon about 4 o'clock on the steep grade of Tenderfoot hill. There were 20 passengers. The coach made a complete somersault. Mrs J. W. Green of Denver was hurt in the left side and is unable to move her lower limbs. Mrs L. R. Rathburn of Grassey, had a bad scalp wound and a baby was slightly hurt. Some half dozen others had slight wounds. The driver turned out to make room for a freight team.

The Julian, on the south slope of Bull hill and adjoining the American Eagles, was sold to-day by Thomas O'Conner, the owner, to M. A. Montgomery of Colorado Springs. The price was $12,500. There was a good cash payment and the rest will be paid in three months

The most phenomenal strike The Gazette reporter has had to report for some months is in the Alba R., on Raven hill. It was practically made on the surface. This claim is owned by the Golden Dale company, and the claim adjoins the Moose. The strike is undoubtedly the cause for the late demand for the stock. There have been rumors here of this for days, but your correspondent was not able to verify it until to-day. The lessees have been putting in their time buying the stock for the past week. From what is believed to be an authoritative source the conditions at the mine are as follows: At a depth of 30 feet the vein is so wide that the walls have left the sides of the shaft. Out of 18 assays made 15 show pay ore. The last four went $96.81, $202, $702 and $1,004.50. The rich seam is nine inches, and adjoining this there is 20 inches of $100 ore. The big grade averages about $400 a ton. The course of the vein is almost parallel with that of the Moose, and bids fair to equal if not excel the richness of that mine. The company will have about 700 feet of the vein. Ore is being piled up and a shipment will be made the first of next week.

THREE FIRES AT ONCE.

Philadelphia Visited by a Triple Burning From Unknown Causes

Philadelphia, Oct. 1.—Three fires occurred in this city to-night at practically the same time, the first alarm being turned in about 8 o'clock.

The four-story building at Broad and Noble streets, owned and occupied by the Horn & Brennen Manufacturing company, makers of gas and electrical fixtures, was gutted. The total loss is estimated at $150,000, and is covered by insurance. Two hundred persons are thrown out of employment.

The building and machinery of James A. Dingee's steam brickyard at Twenty-sixth and York streets, was destroyed, entailing a loss of $80,000. The loss is covered by insurance. The yard covers an area of three blocks, and 350 hands were employed. John Hanlon, the night watchman, and Daniel Hodgson, the night engineer, had narrow escapes.

The third fire damaged a half dozen stables and as many small dwellings in the neighborhood of Twentieth and Huntington street. The loss is $10,000. The origin of the fire in each case is unknown.

HARD TO KILL.

Savannah, Ga., Oct. 1.—A lineman for an electric light company while at work at the top of a pole 40 feet above the ground this afternoon, attempted to connect two wires, making a "short circuit." As he displaced the wires a current of 1000 volts passed through his body. The man was sitting on the cross-piece at the top of the pole and when the current entered his body he hugged the pole. He remained in this position for some time, suffering great agony. Another workman, who was on the pole with him, saw what happened and gave the alarm.

A fire truck was called and the man was brought down. His hands were burned half to the bone and his tongue was half bitten in two, his jaws being shut convulsively as the electricity shot through his body. The streets were filled with people watching the writhing body on the pole when it was brought down and laid on the ground. The wounded man was taken to a hospital and in spite of his shock the doctors say he will recover.

A California Lynching.

Ukiah, Cal., Oct. 1.—News reached here to-day of the murder in Round Valley of J. W. Vinton and the lynching of Jack Littleton, the murderer, on Saturday last. After shooting Vinton, Littleton escaped to his cabin, where he surrendered to officers. While being taken to jail at Yreka, the posse was met by a mob of masked cowboys, who compelled the officers to move on. Littleton was then shot and afterwards hanged.

Kansas Irrigationists.

Garden City, Kan., Oct. 1.—The Kansas State Irrigation convention convened here to-day and will continue in session tomorrow. Prof. E. B. Cowgill, editor of the Kansas Farmer, this morning read a carefully prepared paper on "The Machinery of Irrigation," in which he took occasion to contrast the irrigation most needed in Kansas with that practiced where the regular water courses were arrested, the volume of water being turned into large canals from which it was distributed into smaller ditches and laterals.

Murder in St. Louis.

St. Louis, Oct. 1.—A fire alarm was sounded at 11 o'clock to-night for a small blaze in a restaurant at the corner of Twenty-third and Olive streets. When the firemen arrived they found the proprietor of the place, Jacob Goldman, a feeble old man, lying on the floor and bleeding. He had been stabbed and beaten into insensibility. The money drawer was missing and the place had been set on fire by robbers. The fire was quickly extinguished and Goldman was taken to the city hospital, where he died at midnight.

Goldman was a man of scientific attainments and an exile from Hungary for political reasons. There is no clue to the murderers.

TO BE OR NOT TO BE

The Texas Prize Fight Shares Hamlet's Dilemma.

THE LEGISLATURE IN SESSION.

A Majority Favor the Governor's Bill But the Emergency Clause May Lack the Necessary Two Thirds—Other Opinions.

Austin, Tex., Oct. 1.—The situation in the Legislature may be changed to-morrow or Thursday by the presence of a dozen or more absentees who have been sent for, but had a vote been taken to-day on the administration bill making it a felony to figure in prize fighting, it would have failed of the two-thirds vote necessary to make it become operative

This statement is based on the fact that but 94 members of the House were in attendance at roll call to-day. Of these, 15 have declared against the measure, and three are doubtful. It will be seen, therefore, that as the administration must have 86 votes to pass an emergency bill, they were short to-day about 10 votes.

In the Senate the conditions were more favorable, inasmuch as 21 members of that body were present with every possibility that not more than three of the number would vote in opposition. This would have passed the bill there without a vote to spare. When the House adjourned, there were 34 absentees, including a half dozen members who have resigned or been appointed to other offices since the last session. Nearly all the remainder are claimed by the administration men as favorable to the emergency bill. If this be true and their presence can be secured, the measure will be passed.

There is no question that an overwhelming majority of both houses is favorable to a bill prohibiting prize fighting, and making such sport, if necessary, a felony. There is, however, a little coterie who believe that the bill should not become a law until 90 days after the adjournment, and these claim to have strength enough to defeat the bill in the House with the emergency clause attached. Much will depend on the absentees and their attitude toward the measure upon their arrival.

The indications to-night are that the battle between the administration forces and the opposition will be spirited but brief. There are several reasons for this, the principal reason being that the more influential members of both houses are anxious to return to their homes as speedily as possible. With this end in view, an effort will be made to bring the measure to a vote by Saturday afternoon next. Moreover, the State treasury is in no condition to stand an extraordinary draft upon its resources and as each day's session involves an expenditure of $1,200, another argument in favor of an early adjournment is found. In addition to this daily expenditure the cost to the State for the mileage of the Representatives and Senators will aggregate in round numbers $12,000 more. The leaders fear that the Populists will, in the next campaign, find effective campaign material in the special session of the Legislature, because of its expense to the State, and this is another reason why it is desired to minimize the time as much as possible. The hearing which the judiciary committee of the two houses proposed giving to-day to the opponents of the bill was postponed until to-morrow morning, owing to the inability of the latter to be present. It is not improbable that all of Wednesday may be devoted by the committee to hearing of the objections to the bill, and it is hardly likely, therefore, that either committee will report the bill back to its respective house before Thursday, and possibly not until Friday. It may also be amended in committee in some more particulars, without, however, affecting its real purpose, which is to make prize fighting a felony and permit the law to go into effect immediately after it shall have received the Governor's signature.

Ex-Gov. Barnett Gibbs, the representative of the business interests, who, he claims, have spent large sums of money in the anticipation of the fight, has written a reply to Gov. Culberson's message to the Legislature to-day, which is, to say the least, a vigorous and unique argument.

Referring to the Governor's charge that prize fighting is a brutal sport, Mr. Gibbs queries: "How much of the animal is to be legislated out of man? If you take it all, of course, he becomes a thing not dangerous to either man or woman; but on the other hand, he is of no account to himself or his country. What is left is fit only for soap grease. The Orientals studied for a thousand years to find some effective mode of eliminating the brute from man and finally decided that the only way was to un-sex him.

"The second reason assigned by the Governor for the hasty passage of the law with an emergency clause is 'That certain other States have the law.' Some of these States have no homestead law and have spent much money trying to get others to repeal it in the interests of trade, and claim that ours is a mossback fad, unworthy of the new Democracy. Legislation should be more of deliberation than example and if not, there is the great common law of England that does not have a line against this or kindred athletic sports.

"If we follow the prevailing fad in the East, our girls will all wear bloomers and ride bikes and ride horses straddle when they ride them at all. I discovered this summer while East that these are the facts in higher circles. If Texas were 50 years without a law against glove contests, it might have survived a few months more. An emergency clause will destroy the value of many investments made on the strength of a license law passed by this same Legislature. Thousands of dollars' worth of property will be confiscated by the emergency clause which belongs to men and women who have no sympathy with the fight or with the club. The message does not refer to any State in the Union that called an extraordinary session to stop a glove contest for which great preparation had been made by innocent followers of the law of the last preceding legislative session. Statesmen of the old South would not have robbed one citizen of Texas to have gained the plaudits of every State in the Union. A political party which shudders at glove contests and ruthlessly robs one citizen of his vested rights, will not find a precedent for this remarkable moral and political feature and faith among the Anglo-Saxon people in their most degenerate days."

BIG BETTING.

A Heavy Wager on the Coming Prize Fight.

New York, Oct. 1.—Among those who witnessed the sparring match between Champion Corbett and Dwyer at Madison Square Garden last Monday night was Riley Grannan, the young turf plunger. Grannan occupied a box opposite Corbett's corner, and he watched keenly every movement Corbett made and went away with a poor opinion of the champion's performance.

Grannan did not uncover his opinion publicly until to-day. It happened on the train from Long Island City, going to Gravesend race track. In the party besides Grannan were "Ike" Thompson; George Wheeler and Abe Levy, of Chicago, three prominent bookmakers. Soon after the train pulled out the conversation turned to the Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight, and all but Grannan expressed the opinion that Corbett would be the victor.

"What are the odds?" queried Grannan.

"Five to three on Corbett," replied Thompson.

"I'll bet you $5,000 on Fitzsimmons," said Grannan, calmly.

"Do you want some more at the same odds?" asked Wheeler and Levy in unison.

"Yes," said Grannan, and he made two more bets. If Fitzsimmons fails to win Grannan will lose $18,000 for that is the sum he wagered. If the Australian should perform the feat of putting Corbett to sleep, America's boy plunger will be richer by $30,000.

Corbett Played Ball.

Washington, Oct. 1.—Champion James J. Corbett played first base in a game of baseball at National park this afternoon before an audience of 1500. Corbett's team was composed of Washington amateurs and his opponents were from the government bureau of engraving and printing, amateur champions of the District of Columbia. Joe Corbett pitched for Jim's team, and after five innings the "Bureaus" won by a score of 12 to 8.

The champion did not show much ability in playing the national game, and was unable to drive the ball past the infield.

After the game Corbett, in a talk, expressed confidence in his ability to defeat Fitzsimmons, and stated that he believed the fight would come off at Dallas, Tex., without interference from the authorities. He left for that place to-night at 10.30 over the Southern railway.

DISTRICT COURT.

Civil Business in Both Divisions Yesterday.

In the first division yesterday the business was as follows:

D. T. Cell et al. vs. Wm. Matthews et al., injunction dissolved.

Second Division.

In the breach of promise suit of Root vs. Stratton, application was made by defendant to be allowed to examine and inspect letters from defendant to plaintiff. Motion denied as to letters from defendant to plaintiff, but granted as to the application for an inspection of a letter known as the Jennison letter.

ANNUAL MEETING.

Y. M. C. A. Directors were Chosen Last Evening.

Ninety-six members of the Y. M. C. A. responded to roll-call last evening on the occasion of the annual election and roll-call of the association. Many of the members responded briefly, stating what a great benefit the association had been to them during the past year, and expressing their appreciation of its helpfulness. Many who were unable to be present in person sent greetings by mail, and in some instances enclosed checks to assist the organization in paying the bills at the close of the year.

At the business session the following gentlemen were elected to act as members of the board of directors for the ensuing year. Prof. Edward S. Parsons, Dr. John R. Robinson, E. B. Simmons, M. B. Irvine, Fred F. Horn, Rev. Philip Washburn, J. F. Maybury, William F. Slocum, Jr., Fred J. Williams, H. R. Chapman, J. R. McKinnie and Horace Morse. The above named gentlemen are elected for one year. On next Tuesday they will meet to elect officers. Music was furnished by the Y. M. C. A. orchestra.

New Precincts.

The county commissioners yesterday made a number of new precincts or voting districts in the county. Victor, which has heretofore had but one, will now have three precincts. A precinct is also created at Elkton and at Goldfield. Cripple Creek, which has had three, will hereafter have five. A new precinct is also created at Ramah. In years past there was a precinct there but the population fell off so that it was done away with, but it has again been picking up so that is to be restored. Last spring the commissioners created two new precincts in this city and they will be established for the fall election. There will be 57 precincts at the next election.

The first of the Crosby cottages has been completed and Mr. Crosby moved in on Saturday last. Nos. 2 and 3 are well under way, and Mr. Dawson is working on the plans for Nos. 4 and 5, which will be out in a short time. A complete sewer, gas and water system has been put in for the whole group of cottages.

The docket will be called in the first division of the District court for the setting of cases during October, next Monday morning, the 7th instant, at 9:30. Only those cases will be set where notice of trial have been properly served prior to that time. The bar will please make note of this.

Mr. S. N. Nye has returned from a visit to his fruit ranch in Delta county.

[illegible] which it is proposed to show where he was at 12 o'clock on the [illegible] between April 4 and [illegible] Oppenheimer said Durrant [illegible] sell him the ring.

The roll call for a [illegible] 12 o'clock on the [illegible] College, with Durrant marked present, was introduced, and it was in connection with it that the court ruled out the inferential testimony. It is probable that the prosecution will have to put on the 74 students of Durrant's class and endeavor to find one who answered for him. [illegible] students have been polled on the question. But no one has yet been found [illegible] who will [illegible] he answered for the [illegible]

The defense followed up [illegible] on the Oppenheimer testimony by showing that on the [illegible] of April [illegible] Durrant was at the [illegible] Technical School [illegible]

OF
The Long Lead Mining and Tunnel Co.

That the Cripple Creek Mining District has attained a position in the first rank of the great gold producing districts of the world [illegible]

Fortunately the problem has at last been solved, and solved in a manner as creditable to the judgment of Colorado Springs as favorable to her investors in Cripple Creek property.

[illegible] demonstrated that it is only a question of depth to reach pay ore throughout the whole mineral belt [illegible]

THE LONG LEAD MINING AND TUNNEL CO. has secured sixty acres of [illegible] six mining claims and [illegible] on Cowan Mountain [illegible] Cripple Creek [illegible] from the Gold and Globe stamp mill.

[illegible] No lease will be granted for more than one year, however, and the company will fix upon a date at some future meeting, when all leases will expire.

The Long Lead Mining and Tunnel Co. [illegible] 1,000,000 shares of [illegible] of $1.00 each) of which [illegible] treasury, the proceeds of which [illegible] will be devoted to [illegible] of its property. [illegible] to a pool [illegible] treasury stock it is [illegible] a first issue of 200,000 [illegible] per share. The [illegible] treasury stock it is expected will command a much higher price.

[illegible] a report upon the [illegible] Ira Williams, M. E. and U. S. Deputy Mineral Surveyor:

Cripple Creek, Sept. 17, 1895.

Col. H. S. Ervay and others whom it may concern.

Gentlemen:

I have this day made an examination of the [illegible] west of the Gold and Globe Stamp Mill and find the [illegible] as follows:

There are six claims in the group, namely, the "Little Cliff," "Abraham [illegible]," "Gal[illegible]," "Hercules," "Ex[illegible]" and "[illegible] Eagle" lodes, extending [illegible] the vein for about [illegible] Valid discovery shafts [illegible] have been sunk [illegible] each claim, corner stakes [illegible] location certificates [illegible] all requirements of the law [illegible]

The vein matter which lies between granite [illegible] walls, is composed of [illegible] a large percentage of [illegible] Hematite (Iron). This [illegible] through the entire length of [illegible] as is shown by surface workings at frequent intervals along the vein.

There are also several porphyry veins [illegible] as is shown in the [illegible] "Gold Eagle" and "Little Cliff" [illegible]

There is an abundance of good timber [illegible] claims necessary for all mining purposes.

Wagon roads of light grades can be easily and cheaply constructed to any of the mills or shipping points in the district.

IRA WILLIAMS, M. E.,
U. S. Dep. Min. Sur.

It is hardly necessary to add that the management of this fine property will be conservative and economical and that an investment in treasury stock will undoubtedly prove both safe and profitable.

H. S. ERVAY,

HELP FOR CUBA.

The great mass meeting in Chicago on Monday evening to protest against further Spanish domination and tyranny in Cuba, and to express the sympathy of free Americans with Americans who are striving to be free, was a gathering which may have far-reaching consequences. The feeling of sympathy with the Cubans, and of [illegible] with the administration which misrepresents the people of the United States, is growing stronger every day all over the country, and we think the meeting in Chicago is likely to be only the first of a series of mass-meetings [illegible] the [illegible] of the [illegible] brave men who are fighting for [illegible]. The character of the meeting in Chicago was remarkable. It was no gathering of blatherskites or professional agitators, or even of [illegible] patriots with more [illegible] than [illegible]. At one of the [illegible] held, because no single hall would hold all who wished [illegible] tions were [illegible] by the Rev. J. H. Barrows, who [illegible] of the World's [illegible] is entitled to be [illegible] ter in Chicago. At the other meeting the resolutions were [illegible] by another Reverend doctor, and at each meeting another [illegible], at one, the Rev. F. W. Gunsaulus, who is well known here, and at the other, the Rev. P. S. Henson, who is known all over the country. The mayor of the city, the Hon. George B. Swift, who is a level-headed and conservative business man, presided at one of the meetings. Such names as these are sufficient [illegible] of the character of the gatherings.

The resolutions presented by Dr. Barrows began very appropriately with a quotation from our own immortal Declaration of Independence. Read these words in the light of past history and recent events in Cuba, and see how perfectly they fit the case:

"We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness; that to secure these rights governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed; that whenever any form of government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the right of the people to alter or to abolish it, and to institute a new government, laying its foundations on such principles and organizing its powers in such form as to them shall seem most likely to effect their safety and happiness. Prudence, indeed, will dictate that governments long established should not be changed for light and transient causes, and accordingly all experience has shown that mankind are more disposed to suffer, while evils are sufferable, than to right themselves by abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed. But when a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same object, evinces a design to reduce them under absolute despotism, it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off such government and to provide new guards for their future security."

This declaration, written by the skillful pen of Jefferson, and passed by the representatives of the American colonies on the 4th of July, 1776, was made in view of certain [illegible] which now look small in comparison with the grievances which the Cubans have suffered. Like Great Britain a century ago Spain has [illegible] upon a [illegible] the aggrandizement of the mother country. Like Great Britain then, Spain has taxed her colonies without their being represented in the taxing body. But our forefathers enjoyed under British domination a measure of self-government which has always been denied the Cubans, and the persons and the property were never at the mercy of Great Britain as the persons and the property of the Cubans have been at the mercy of the Spaniards. Even when war [illegible] it was waged by Great Britain [illegible] with the [illegible] nations, but Spain has [illegible] [illegible] and threatens to massacre the whole population of the long-suffering island, showing [illegible] the prisoners captured [illegible] massacring the inhabitants of captured towns, and destroying the property of suspected sympathizers with the [illegible].

It is time that the people of this country, since their national administration will do nothing towards helping the people of Cuba to throw off the yoke of the tyrant, should come together and voice their sentiments in a way that cannot be disregarded, and that will show to all the world that the spirit of '76 is still alive among us and that we still sympathize with the efforts made by oppressed peoples to obtain for themselves those blessings of self-government which we have now enjoyed for more than a century.

As we have read the various accounts of the recent celebration at Chickamauga of the establishment there of a great national park, one significant omission has been "borne in upon us" as they say in church meetings with irresistible force—the President of the United States was not there, and there was a good reason why he could not well go to that gathering. Every other President that we have had since the war could have gone to that celebration, and addressed the assembled veterans of both armies as comrades. Grant, Hayes, Garfield, Arthur and Harrison were all actively engaged in the war. Every one of them merited his title of General, bestowed in recognition of services rendered to the Union cause. Grant, Garfield, and Harrison were all in the campaign of which Chickamauga was the central feature; and Garfield was on the staff that day, carrying dispatches through the storm of lead that made that awful field one of the most fatal ever fought. But as for Cleveland—we do not know whether his substitute was at Chickamauga or not.

Perhaps it is unnecessary to remind the readers of this paper of the importance of the coming county election, but many of them are not yet registered and we would urge upon all such the necessity of putting their names on the polling lists as soon as possible. The officers to be chosen at the coming election are among the most important that we ever have to choose. Upon the choice of proper men for these offices depends the efficiency of county government for two [illegible] years to come and the two judicial positions to be filled are those which come home the nearest to us all. If only these two judges were to be elected, the matter would be of sufficient importance to call out a full vote, and all those who have at heart the good administration of justice in this community, all those who desire to see upon our district and our county bench the very best men that can be placed in these honorable and responsible positions should make sure [illegible] vote. The Republican [illegible] for both these offices [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] best of [illegible] the character [illegible].

Now that the [illegible] have been made, [illegible] the time to think of the voting, and the first requisite for voters is registration. All those who did not vote at the spring election, and all who have changed their residence since then, must register, and to do this requires the presence of two [illegible] who are registered voters for each person who desires to enter his or her name on the roll. The registration books are now open at the Coliseum, in charge of Mrs. McArthur, and every person who is entitled to vote [illegible] that the duty of registering is performed. The sooner, the better, for new [illegible] [illegible] and the registration may be performed easily and quickly.

CATHOLIC PHILOSOPHY.

A New Building for the Catholic University of America.

Washington, Oct. 1.—The Catholic University of America to-day signalized its admission of lay students and the inauguration of two new lay faculties by the dedication of the McMahon Hall of Philosophy, a magnificent new building, which will form the nucleus of the extension of educational advantages which the university will afford.

The services to-day began at 9 o'clock with the blessing of the McMahon hall by His Eminence Cardinal Gibbons, according to the formula of the Roman ritual, assisted by the directors of the university and a number of prominent prelates of the church, who will also participate in the proceedings of the Eucharistic Congress, which begins to-morrow. The inaugural exercises immediately followed. Bishop Keane read the brief of Pope Leo XIII. with reference to the establishment of the McMahon hall, which served as an introduction to the delivery of four formal discourses. Monsignor Satolli, the apostolic delegate, spoke of philosophy and the faculties of philosophy, preceding the discourse of Rev. Prof. E. A. Pace, dean of the faculty of philosophy, and Prof. W. C. Robinson, dean of the faculty of social science. The exercises concluded with the chancellor's address, delivered by Cardinal Gibbons, chancellor of the university.

Monthly Debt Statement.

Washington, Oct. 1.—The debt statement issued this afternoon shows a net decrease in the public debt, less cash in the treasury, during September of $1,-574,692.49.

The interest bearing debt increased $210, the non-interest bearing debt decreased $498,069.70, and cash in the treasury increased $1,076,[illegible]. The balance of the several classes of debt at the close of business Sept. 30 were:

Interest bearing debt	$747,360,[illegible] 00
Debt on which interest has ceased since maturity ceased ..	1,695,690.26
Debt bearing no interest ..	[illegible],445,519.49
Total	$1,126,494,[illegible]

The certificates and treasury notes offset by an equal amount of cash in the treasury, outstanding at the end of the month were $600,[illegible], a decrease of $4,157,000.

The total cash in the treasury was $827,[illegible],108.74.

The gold reserve was $92,911,9[illegible]. Net cash balance, $92,[illegible] 41.

In the month there [illegible] gold coin and bars of $5,[illegible], the total at the close being $147,[illegible].

Of silver, there was a decrease of $3,-709,[illegible].50.

Of surplus, there was in national bank depositories $16,047,166.94, against $15,-[illegible].69 at the end of the preceding month.

The Northern Pacific Muddle.

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 1.—Brayton Ives, president of the Northern Pacific railroad, accompanied by the company's general counsel, Silas W. Pettit and Col. James M. McNaught, arrived in this city from the East this afternoon. To-morrow Mr. Ives will appear before Judge Hanford in the United States District Court for the purpose of making good his charges against Receivers Oakes, Rouse and Payne, whose resignations are now on file.

There is no end to speculation to-night as to what course Judge Hanford will pursue relative to the acceptance of the resignations. Many predict that his honor will accept them and that he will name three new receivers for the Northern Pacific road utterly disregarding the action of Judge Jenkins of the Milwaukee court.

It is also the opinion of some that Judge Hanford will force Messrs. Payne, Oakes and Rouse to answer to the charges preferred by Ives, and that they will in addition be brought up for contempt in failing to comply with the order of the court.

THE FEDERATION.

A GATHERING OF THE BRIGHTEST WOMEN IN THE STATE.

A Brief Account of the First Day's Session—Popular Literature Trenchantly Discussed—An Able and Sensible Address by the National President.

The Women's Federation carried out the programme yesterday to the letter. Before 10 o'clock most of the members were assembled at the Coburn library, and promptly at 10 the exercises began. Everybody was ready with her assigned part, and everything moved along smoothly and swiftly. This was fortunate, for the programme was one which it have been altogether impossible to get through without promptness and preparation, and a good deal of speed.

At the morning session, the roll-call necessarily occupied a good deal of time, for the secretary had to act as a committee on credentials. This done, the address of welcome was delivered by Mrs. James B. Gregg who made a very graceful and pretty speech, and incidently credited newspaper men with perpetual youth. The response to this address was made by the first vice president of the State Federation, Mrs. Gale, in the absence of the president. The rest of the morning was given to the reading of reports.

A Family Secret.

The afternoon session was more interesting, if not so important. After a song by Mrs. H. H. Seldomridge, the federation poem was read by Mrs. L. G. Carpenter of Fort Collins. This was followed by the address of the national president, Mrs. Henrotin. As The Gazette man was the only one in the room, and as a part of the address was on the duty of women to their husbands, perhaps it would not be fair to report it in the public press; but it is right to say that it was one of the most sensible talks ever made by a woman to women.

The main idea of the address, however, was on the uses and purposes to which the federation may be put. The clubs are necessarily social in their nature; and the social development of humanity is the crown of civilization. The social side of life is largely under the control of the women, and always will be; for no matter how far the "new woman" may progress, it is not likely she will get beyond her social duties. The federation is eminently social, indeed one may call it democratic in its tendency, because it helps to break down the artificial barriers which religion or wealth or caste have set up, and put all educated and clubable women on the same footing.

Many details of the working of successful clubs in various parts of the country were narrated, as showing what women are doing in their clubs, particular attention being paid to the Hull house settlement and similar work elsewhere among the working girls. Here in Colorado, a great work may be done by the women in the study of civics, so that women may be better prepared to do political work and to cast their votes intelligently.

The great mission of women, according to Mrs. Henrotin, is to carry ideals into real life; not only into conventions and women's meetings, but into all the ordinary every-day details of life: to create a high moral standard in social life, to create a gracious and beneficent moral atmosphere in the home, to see that forms and ceremonies mean something, to put wealth and luxury to a good use—for these have their good uses; to perpetuate, or to create if necessary, a civic spirit in the communities where they live, and above all, to study those things which make for peace to avoid jars and quarrels and all that makes life better, to smooth the rough places, and to bring about an atmosphere in which it will be impossible for discord and strife to exist.

The address was delivered colloquially, and was followed with great interest throughout, and heartily applauded at the end.

Popular Literature.

The next number on the programme was a paper on the trend of the popular literature of the day, by Mrs. C. C. Richardson of Pueblo. This proved to be a very able and caustic criticism of the fiction of the day, rather pessimistic in tone, perhaps, but full of exceedingly bright things, of clever characterization of particular authors, and of trenchant puncturing of shams. It showed a very wide reading, and a very high ideal of what fictitious literature ought to be. Every popular author of the day, and some who are not so well known, was hauled over the coals, and all suffered in the process from the author of "The Yellow Aster" up to the author of "Trilby."

In the discussion which followed, eight ladies took part, most of whom had evidently paid their audience the compliment of preparing themselves with care, and all of whom spoke in an interesting way. Mrs. Alice Polk Hill spoke on the influence of women on the literature of our time; Mrs. Ida DePriest on the extent to which we should accept the conclusions of others; Mrs. Alfred Muller on literature for the young; Mrs. Jacobson on the indiscriminate reading of new books; and Mrs. McNeill, Mrs. Bradford, Mrs. Moore and Miss Reynolds spoke to the question in general.

Evening Session.

There was another big crowd at the evening gathering and if possible the exercises were of even a more interesting character than during the afternoon. They began with music by the Misses Herman, violin and piano. It was an audience with cultivated musical tastes and the artists must have felt it. The young ladies accentuated the good impression already made and it is to be hoped they will be frequently heard.

The general subject for discussion was "The Child and the State," and the principal paper was read by Mrs. Ella McNeil of Denver. It was short and pithy. The lady considers environment the chief thing and would have the child well surrounded. In the public schools she would have manual training and would have patriotism taught. The State should see that the sanitary conditions are good everywhere, free water and free baths. There should be the strictest laws against vices. She would have a court for children and prophesied that in time a woman judge would sit beside the men. The work of the future will be prevention and not reformation.

The paper was followed by five-minute discussions on topics pertaining to the general paper. Mrs. Hiscock of Denver discussed heredity and environment; Mrs. Richardson spoke on the early environment; Mrs. Brown spoke on the school and the home, and made one of the most instructive talks of the evening; Mrs. Hayward spoke on the evolution of the child, especially [illegible] the spiritual development; Mrs. Mary C. C. Bradford discussed how far compulsory education may be carried without endangering the liberty of the individual. It was in her best style, and ably presented and thought out. Mrs Bradford does not deny that she holds some of the views that people hold up their hands and cry down as socialistic. In fact, she says that the public schools are a form of socialism. What is necessary is to make them perfect. Compulsory education can be carried to the point where it makes the child realize that truth, justice, honor and a capacity to work are essential. Personal liberty should end where evil to the State begins.

Mrs. Peavy, the State superintendent of schools, discussed the workings of the State compulsory law. The labor commissioner has been trying to enforce it but as it now exists Mrs. Peavy does not see how it can be made very effective. She believes it a just law, but she gave a number of incidents where it seems to be working an injustice.

Mrs. James H. Platt of Denver made a stirring kind of talk with special reference to securing "attention" of the child in school. She took up a hint that Mrs. Bradford had dropped that the public schools are trying to do too much. She would have the three R's taught along with Americanism.

Mrs Dunbar of this city briefly replied to this in pointing out that a boy referred to by Mrs. Platt, who did not seem to be doing the best in school, was perhaps not fitted for spelling and arithmetic, but was having the very side of his nature developed which should be.

The five-minute rule was pretty strictly enforced at both afternoon and evening sessions, and the result was most happy, for the speakers went directly to their point, stated it well, and stopped when they got done.

Altogether, the first day's session was a most gratifying success, and the session to-day promises to be of at least equal interest and profit. Following is the programme for to-day's sessions:

New Fruit Store.

M. Slaughter opened his new fruit store at 128 North Tejon street yesterday, in the new Hays buildings. As a result of his liberal advertising and handsome store, he had a big rush all day. The store is certainly a pleasing place to visit just now. It has more the appearance of a horticultural hall at a county fair than anything else, the only difference being that you can buy any of the tempting wares. The room is painted white and is clean and attractive. In bins are stacked the luscious fruits from the world over, while beside them are fresh vegetables. Great stacks of purple egg plants are piled up along side of the reddest of radishes and greenest of lettuce. Big prize apples from Canon City show their lustrous golden skins to advantage by the side of blushing peaches from Grand Junction. Blue and green grapes hang in profusion, while the homlier kitchen truck is placed in most attractive form. The store is a sight just now because of the great variety of fruit and vegetables that it is possible to get together. In addition, fresh rolls of butter are displayed, various kinds of cheese are for sale and a good display of candles and nuts. Such an establishment is deserving of patronage, and will get it.

The Coburn library of Colorado college is open from 8:30 a. m. to 5 p. m. It is free to all clergymen, and all teachers in public or private schools are granted the privilege at half rates, that is for one dollar and fifty cents per year. The fee for all others is three dollars per year.

The first public ball of the winter was given last evening by the Laundrymen of the city at Durkee hall. There was a large attendance and everyone had a good time. There was excellent music, and dancing was kept up until a late hour.

Mr. Paul Mead has been appointed director of the Colorado college gymnasium. He will assume charge of all work in physical culture within a few days.

The divorce suit of Nordstrum vs. Nordstrum is on trial in the County Court.

Dr. B. P. Anderson expects to leave on Friday for a trip of two or three weeks in the East.

Hon. B. F. Crowell and sisters returned yesterday, having spent the summer on the Atlantic coast.

Miss Evelyn Carrington of Pueblo has been visiting friends in the city for a day or two, and returns home to-day.

Dean Colwell, the rector of Grace Church, has resigned and will leave shortly for the East, having accepted a charge near Providence, R. I.

THE MINING EXCHANGE.

First Call.

Colorado Springs, Oct. 1.—Although the market showed a good deal better tone than upon the previous day there was not very much doing on 'change. The biggest stock of the call was Consolidated which with its strength managed to make a good total of sales as well as putting in bids for a few deals. The price ranged from 15¼ to 15¾. The heaviest trading was at 15¾ with over 700 sales at that figure and though the price eventually reached 15¾ it closed a good deal weaker with offerings at 15¼. Argentum Juniata was another stock which opened with a bright appearance but which weakened towards the close. The first sale was made as high as 71 but the price gradually dwindled down to 70 and finally to 69 which was, however, actually bid for it at the close. Favorite was quite strong and had 500 sales at 7 with fairly as much as that bid for more. The only Mollie Gibson sales were made at 55 but though the bid price was raised a point or two at the close, there was none offered at less than 59. Other light traders were Gold and Globe, Fanny Rawlings, Work and Creede and Cripple Creek, the latter stock showing some weakness.

Second Call.

The second call at the Exchange was very much the same as the first though the general tone was, perhaps, a little weaker and there was not quite so much business doing. The small surprise during the course of business was created by Argentum Juniata which with a total of nearly 3500 shares was actively sought after at from 69½ and 70, the sales at the two prices being fairly evenly divided. Fanny Rawlings and Consolidated divided honors for the heaviest total, each of the stocks having 2500 sales. The latter was decidedly off color and sold as low as 14¾ and half a cent less than that was the best bid for it at the close. The sales in Fanny were all made at 8¾ and the same figure was bid for more. Gibson continues to slide down the scale and to all appearances this was accentuated by what was probably a forced sale of 1000 shares at 55. The other traders on the list were Union, Mt. Rosa and Gold and Globe. Of these Union created the greatest interest with a total of 3400 sales which went at 21½ and 22, closing with offerings at the lower figure.

The Proposition Co.

A new mining company has just been formed under the above title. The claims owned are the Elk Run, Elk Run No. 1 and Elk Run No. 2, located west of Mound City.

The officers elected were Henry Russell Wray, president; H. H. Dorsey, treasurer, and H. Hutchinson secretary. The other directors are J. A. Sill, R. Macmillan, D. H. Rowley, W. H. Clatworthy and G. W. Shields. Enough work has been done on this property to patent it, and contract has been let for patent.

Over $1,800 is in the treasury, together with 200,000 shares of stock. On the whole, it seems a "good" proposition.

Two Bull hill properties, the Accident and Grotto, have been bonded and leased to Chicago parties. The bond calls for $95,000.

The Colorado Springs Board of Trade and Mining Exchange.

First Call.

Colorado Springs, Oct. 1.—A very good morning's business was done at the first call of the Board of Trade, a total of over 20,000 shares changing hands. The heavy trading was in [illegible], with a total very close to 5,000 shares which sold at about 3 per 100. Several others [illegible] from 5,000 to 20,000 sales, prominent among which was Golden Dale with an even 20,000 shares and which closed with $8 per 1000 bid for several thousand more. Aola continues strong with [illegible] and had an [illegible]. The same number was credited to C. K. and N. which was a [illegible] per 1000. Pappoose was again well to the front, with a total of 15,000 and a closing bid of 2 for it. Consolidated was fairly active and was in good demand at all times at better than 15 though the closing bid did not show it. Thirty-five stocks in all were traded in and things had a very lively appearance at the close.

Second Call.

There was not nearly so much doing at the second call as in the morning and very few stocks stood out with anything like prominence. Among the few, however, was Goldstone with a total of 10,000 sales, all of which went at $10.75 per 1000, showing an inclination to weaken. Bankers' total was not very far short of this and the stock sold fairly briskly at 8¾ and 9. Three stocks had 4000 sales, Gold Standard, Franklin and Garfield Grouse. The first named was in good shape at 11¾ and 11¾, but not so much can be said for the other two stocks named. Sacramento jumped to the front with 5000 sales at 5 and the same price was bid for more. The total sales for the day amounted to 205,770 shares.

The Denver Pit

Special to The Gazette.

Denver, Oct. 1.—The market was weak and sagging here to-day and there was no special features to the trading. The silvers were all weak in price and were fairly traded in. There was some little demand for Bankok but the bidders and holders of the stock were wide apart in price and there was no getting together. The total sales in the listed stocks amounted to 10,500 shares with over 4500 unlisted sales.

Current News.

Mr. R. D. Milner, of Milner & Brown the assayers, is now managing the Sunny Side mine at Central City and will ship some ore this week.

Mr. Russell Prentice has moved his office to room F in the Exchange building, where he is fixing up handsome headquarters preparatory to a long seige of activity in the stock business.

Mr. Frank A. Waters, who for many years has visited Colorado Springs, will in the future reside here. He has opened an office in the Bank building. Mr. Waters has large mining interests in Idaho and Cripple Creek. His time will be given mostly to his Cripple Creek properties.

The levels in the Buena Vista, belonging to the Isabella company, have been run out to a great distance and are now not very far from the Smuggler workings. The vein runs as parallel with the claim as any in camp and the more work that is done the more it goes to demonstrate the statement often suggested in these columns, that the Victor and Buena Vista veins are one and the same thing.

The monthly gold output of the Cripple Creek Mining district, it is prophesied, will reach the million dollar mark this month; last month it fell a little under that figure. New shippers are being added to the list each week. During the past eight months, 52 mines have added their names to the already long list of shipping properties, most of which have been opened up by lessees. As near as can be ascertained, the number of recognized shipping mines in this district at present is 102, which number is expected to be increased by the beginning of the year 1896 to at least 150. The number of men employed Jan. 1, 1895, was estimated at 1500, which number has been increased until now there are no less than 4000 men at work. (Evening Miner.

THE MARKETS.

New York, Oct. 1.—Money on call 1½@2 per cent.; last loan at 2, and closing offered at 2 per cent. Prime mercantile paper 4¾@5½ per cent. Bar silver 67. Mexican dollars 53¼. Sterling exchange is inactive, with actual business in bankers' bills at $4.87@4.87½ for 60 days, and $4.88¼ for demand. Posted rates $4.87½@4.88½. Commercial bills $4.86¼@4.86½. Government bonds firm; State bonds quiet; railroad bonds higher. Silver at the board was neglected.

Speculation at the Stock Exchange was quiet again to-day, but the tendency of prices was upward. After a period of hesitancy at the opening, prices moved up briskly in the case of the anthracite coalers on the reiteration of the old reports of a combination of the companies for the better maintenance of rates and of the regulation of the output. The steady advance in the price of the product of late strengthens the belief of an early consummation of the deal and it is stimulating purchases of the stocks. To-day Lackawanna jumped 4, to 174, Delaware and Hudson 1, to 131, Jersey Central 1¾, to 114⅜, and Reading 1, to 22. Subsequently Reading ran off ⅝, to 21½.

The general list moved up in sympathy, although the industrials were also favorably influenced by special causes. In the case of Sugar, which rose to 105½, improved trade conditions were cited as the cause for the advance. Chicago Gas's gain of nearly 2 per cent., to 70⅛, was due to reports that the new owners were making good progress in their work of reorganization of the property in line with the laws of Illinois. The official confirmation of the settlement of the Distilling and Cattle Feeding troubles, which reached here by way of Chicago, brought about a rally to 21⅞ in that stock. Tobacco jumped 2¼ to 101½@100, on reports that negotiations were pending for a settlement of the fight with the outside manufacturers.

A reduction in the posted rates of sterling exchange of half a cent, 4.87½ and 4.88½, during the afternoon, started up a fresh demand from the shorts.

It has been fashionable of late to sell the market on the theory that heavy gold exports were imminent. To-day's reduction, however, which was due to an increase in the supply of cotton bills, has caused a change in sentiment so far as gold shipments are concerned, and the bears were endeavoring to take back their contracts all day. The market closed firm with prices anywhere from ¼ to 4 per cent. higher on the day, the latter in Lackawanna. Total sales were 159,585 shares, including 28,400 Distillers, 22,000 Reading, 17,300 St. Paul, and 15,100 Chicago Gas.

Bonds were steady and higher; sales footed up $1,010,000.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

Chicago, Oct. 1.—One of the strongest bear points on wheat this morning was the neglect of Liverpool to coincide with our closing firmness of yesterday. Cables from that place quoted a decline and on that our opening was at loss from ¾ to 1¼ cent. This took away the heart of the bulls and it was a case of sell out or run further risk, the former course being chosen. Best authorities report that English cities are overstocked with wheat and that until some exhaustion is shown there is little chance for a demand on exporting countries. The Northwestern receipts were heavy at 125 cars. Chicago had 137 cars, and inspected out 69,586 bushels. A large number of the selling orders this morning came from New York, but many local traders who were long over night were zealous in disposing of their holdings. Bradstreet's reported an increase in the world's available supply of 2,541,000 bushels. Export clearances at the Atlantic seaboard were 215,759 bushels. During the last half hour those people who sold "puts" last night were energetic sellers of wheat, through an unwillingness to remain long of wheat which was sure to be put to them. Lowest prices of the day were quoted at this time. December wheat opened from 62¼ to 62⅜, declined to 60⅞, closing at 61, 2½ cents under yesterday. Estimated receipts for to-morrow 115 cars.

Corn declined a little in acknowledgement of the weakness of wheat, but there was nothing much in the trade to invite attention or interest. Liverpool cables were lower. Receipts were 671 cars, 79 less than estimated, and 204,226 bushels were withdrawn from store. Export clearances amounted to 279,062 bushels. Bradstreet's reported an increase in stocks of 228,000 bushels. May corn opened from 29⅝ to 29¼, declined to and closed at 29⅛, ⅜ cent under yesterday. Estimated receipts for to-morrow 345 cars.

THE MOST PUNCTUAL TRAIN FOR DENVER.

You know leaves Colorado Springs every morning at 8:10 sharp, returning at 6:50 p. m. via the popular Gulf line. Always on time. Fine track, fine cars and fast time. Rates low as the lowest at all times.

E. K. CARNES, General Agent.
14 Pike's Peak avenue.

WANT A JOB?

You can make good wages panning the dirt in Newlin's Gulch. Take train on Gulf railway to Parker's station; the railroad fare is cheap. From Parker's you get on a stage or if you want to walk, it is only about five miles from Parker's to the gulch. No man need be without work this winter. Gulf depot on West Huerfano street.

RESERVED SEATS

EVER TRIED IT?

We refer to the new fast train to Denver over the Gulf road. Leaves Colorado Springs 8:10 every morning, and leaves exactly on time. No waiting for a train from some other point. For this reason it is by far the most satisfactory morning train from Colorado Springs to Denver; due at Denver 10.55, and arrives at Denver at 10:55. Splendid track, modern equipment; best view of the mountains. Depot on West Huerfano street, immediately on Rapid Transit line to and from Manitou. City office No. 14 Pike's Peak avenue.

E. K. CARNES, General Agent.

The popular Gulf railway, with their usual liberality and enterprise, will sell round trip tickets to Denver for the great carnival, Oct. 16th, and 18th, at the very low rate of one dollar and fifty cents for the round trip.

Scales and Scales

There are many kinds of scales. The most popular are

Fairbank's
for weighing.

Baker & Co., Druggists, have placed in front part of their store the best scales they make and you are invited to step up on your weight free.

Another kind of scales is the scale of prices, and none are higher than Baker & Co., while their prices are the lowest.

Some have a scaley way of using customers, but you never heard of that complaint at Baker's. All treated alike, courteously and promptly.
